Miss Mary Walters Awarded Freedoms Foundation Medal

Miss Mary Walters, 315 E. Main St., a teacher at Circleville High School, has been awarded a medal by the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge.

The medal is awarded for exceptional service in furthering the cause of responsible citizenship, patriotism and a greater understanding and appreciation of the American way of life.

Miss Walters teaches American Government and Spanish at Circleville High School. She is among 569 teachers from every state who were selected for the honor by a special awards jury.

In announcing the recipients of the 1959 Valley Forge Classroom Teachers Medal Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, President of Freedoms Foundation said, "It is appropriate that we recognize the outstanding efforts of America's class room teachers who are doing so much to advance, among the nation's youth, the cause of freedom and a deeper appreciation and understanding of our rich heritage.

"Without the dedicated efforts of America's teachers," stated Dr. Wells, "our children would be ill-prepared and ill-equipped to face the responsibilities of freedom and leadership in tomorrow's world.

"Watered down, weak - kneed patriotism cannot preserve freedom against the international attack of atheistic communism. We are thrilled, as Americans, to see the strong leadership and intelligent patriotism of these classroom teachers."

• • •

THE announcement of these 1959 awardees represents a continuing program by Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge to seek out and recognize those classroom teachers who have realized the importance of laying a firm foundation for youth in the fundamental concepts of American freedom.

Recognition is in the form of cash and honor medal awards and is made in practically every area of human communication.

Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge was founded in March, 1949. It is a non - profit, non - political and non - sectarian organization created to bring about a better understanding of the basic principles underlining the Republic. President Dwight D. Pennsy Rail Fuss Settled

Both Sides Happy With New Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A predawn settlement, hammered out after near 15 hours of peace talks, today ended the 12-day-old strike that had stopped the Pennsylvania Railroad for the first time in 114 years.

Leaders of the 20,000 strikers, members of two non-operating unions, said they were delighted with the agreement, ending a dispute over work rules and job security that began in mid-1957. Wages were not an issue.

PRR spokesmen said the settlement was satisfactory.

No trains will operate today on America's biggest railroad that connects 10,000 miles of track in 13 states and the District of Columbia.

The Pennsy said service "will be partially restored" by Tuesday morning, emphasizing that restoration must proceed "in progressive steps to assure complete safety and reliability of operation."

The two unions involved are the Transport Workers, representing 15,000, and the System Federation, with 5,000. Their members are car inspectors, oilers, pipefitters, car cleaners, steamfitters and laborers.

Michael J. Quill, fiery TWU president who had blamed the PRR for the negotiations impasse, said he was "delighted with the agreement. He said it was reached "by real genuine collective bargaining."

He said the unions won protection against the Pennsy contracting to outside firms work that PRR employes can do themselves, a severance pay plan for protection of railroad workers, protection for mechanics helpers against abolition of their jobs, and a rule that defines in specific terms an employe's job.

In addition, Quill said, the railroad agreed to drop law suits totalling $14 million against the union.

The agreement totals more than 30 points, all touching on job security and work rules.

U.N. Gets Choice of 2 Delegations From Congo; Lumumba Is Jailed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United Nations was continued today to be pestered by the Congo situation. The world body's Security Council lined up to make a selection on which Congolese delegation to hear — President Joseph Kasavubu's or Premier Patrice Lumumba's.

Meanwhile back home in Leopoldville Lumumba was having new troubles as he clung grimly to his job as premier.

He no sooner than received another vote of confidence from the Congo parliament than the Congolese army clapped him into jail. Kasavubu immediately named a new government to replace Lumumba's tottering Communist-supported regime.

Lumumba was taken to an army garrison and was followed there soon afterward by his wife and two children.

About 200 Congolese soldiers surrounded his rsidence overlooking the Congo River and the lanky goateed Lumumba surrendered without a struggle.

Senate President Joseph Ileo a moderate is Kasavubu's choice to run the country.

U.N. troops at gun point thwarted Lumumba's desperate attempt to seize control of the Leopoldville radio station Sunday. It was a blow to his prestige and pride.

Across the Congo River in Brazzaville African officials of the former French Congo colony stopped two Lumumba delegates from transferring from a U.N. plane to a commercial airliner York. They planned to present Lumumba's case before the Security Council.

The officials were Thomas Hanza the Congo's minister to the United Nations and Jacques Lumbala a left winger who has the title of secretary of state for the presidency.

Both were returned to Leopoldville while another delegation sent by President Joseph Kasavubu was flying to New York. Kasavubu asked the United Nations to consider his delegation headed by Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko as representing "the legal government" of the Congo.

Toward the end of what was one of the most trying days in Lumumba's career Congolese army commander Gen. Victor Lundula led 80 soldiers to the Leopoldville airport where he offered them to the service of the local U.N. commander a Sudanese colonel.

The men wearing helmets with camouflage nets laid down their arms and received brooms instead to sweep the airport hangars.

Lundula who had the rank of sergeant two months ago took them into the airport shortly after he had watched the premier's helpless rage before the cordon of U. N. troops barring access to the radio station.

U.N. officials said that peace was returning rapidly to the blood-soaked southeastern areas of Kasai province and the border of secessionist Katanga province.

The U.N. command announced a truce in the bloody civil strife between Lumumba soldiers and by partisans of Kasai secession.

A 14-officer U.N. team was sent to the area Sunday to supervise the truce.

Diplomats generally expected the Soviet Union would object to the 11-nation council hearing Kasavubu's representatives. Some speculated that if this happened the United States would object to is hearing Lumumba's people.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold disclosed that U.N. representatives were talking with Lumumba about his demand the U.N. give up control of the Leopoldville radio station.

Hammarskjold gave council members a report from his personal ambassador in Leopoldville Rajeshwar Dayal of India who said Lumumba tried twice Sunday to seize the station.

Dayal said Lumumba's action was "particularly regretable" since he and Lumumba had begun discussions Saturday on the fate of the radio station and Lumumba had agreed not to try to seize the installation.

Troops of the 16000-men U. N. force took over and closed the Leopoldville broadcasting station a week ago to keep Lumumba and Kasavubu from using it to incite their factions to civil war.

Kasavubu has named Joseph Ileo the Senate president as premier to succeed Lumumba. But Lumumba does not recognize he has been dismissed.

Hammarskjold told the council Friday night the Congo constitution entitled the president to fire the premier but did not entitle the premier to fire the president. However he said U.N. representatives were under instructions to back neither Kasavubu nor Lumumba.

Nixon Vows To Keep Religious Issue Out of His Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon vowing his best efforts to keep the religious issue out of the presidential race opens his official campaign today with a major airport rally.

The sendoff comes at Friendship Airport near Baltimore where President Eisenhower vice-presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge and other Republican leaders meet to cheer Nixon on his way. He takes off in a jet plane on a trip that will lead him through 14 states in six days.

The vow came on television Sunday night as the Republican candidate called for a cutoff date on the discussion of religion.

"I would hope that Sen. Kennedy would reach the same conclusion" Nixon said on the NBC television program (Meet the Press) "because if the two candidates refrain from raising the issue, refrain from discussing it, that means that at least to that extent it won't be in the news."

In San Diego Calif. Sen. John F. Kennedy tre Democratic candidate quickly agreed.

"I wish we could cut off debate on this subject" said Kennedy whose Roman Catholic faith has become an issue. "I think we'd all be better off."

Nixon's session on television was his first public appearance since leaving Walter Reed Army Hospital. He spent 11 days there for treatment of a knee infection delaying the start of his campaign.

"I have issued orders to all of the people in my campaign not to discuss religion, not to raise it not to allow anybody to participate in the campaign who does so on that ground" Nixon said "and as far as I am concerned, I will decline to discuss religion and will discuss other issues in order to keep the minds of the people on the issues that should decide this election and to keep them off an issue that should not enter into it."

Nixon however recognized the difficulty of keeping religion out of the campaign because "every time the candidate raises the issue or talks about it even as I answer a question it is news and the people think about that."

New England Fears Storm To Be 'Worst'

Southern Connecticut Coast Evacuated as Hurricane Roars In

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hurricane Donna, ripping its way north, struck today at metropolitan New York. The southern Connecticut coast was ordered evacuated. The Weather Bureau in Boston warned that it may be the most damaging storm ever to hit New England.

Thousands were evacuated from Long Island's south shore. The Weather Bureau said the storm was moving at 35 miles an hour on a course which would take it off the tip of Long Island—100 miles east of New York City—sometime this afternoon.

New York City itself was getting stiff fringe effects of the storm.

Trees and utility wires were toppling on Long Island's south shore before noon.

The New York weather bureau said the storm's center was 70 miles "straight east" of Atlantic City, N.J., shortly before noon.

Eastern Long Island and southern New England were in the path of the raging storm one of the most destructive hurricanes in years. Four thousand residents of Fire Island off Long Island's south shore were evacuated.

The Weather Bureau here warned against high tides and ways. It said flooding might be felt as far as 100 miles inland from rain and swollen streams.

The normally teeming sidewalks of New York were virtually deserted as pedestrains took cover. Park trees bent and awnings flapped under the force of the wind.

This was the first day of school In New York City and the schools opened as usual. But before noon the Board of Education issued a bulletin advising those attending afternoon or other late sessions to stay at home.

Planes were evacuated from Stewart Air Force Base at Newburgh N.Y. and other air bases in the New York and New England area.

Montauk Point on the extreme tip of Long Island was being lashed by winds at 40 miles an hour by midmorning when the eye of the storm still was far to the south about 65 miles southeast of Cape May N.J.

The hurricane was on a course that would take it over the eastern end of Long Island at about 2 p.m the Weather Bureau said. Its center was moving at about 35 miles an hour.

As the storm moved out to sea off the Virginia Capes the Tidewater Virginia area appeared to have suffered only slight damage. Civl Defense officials in Norfolk aid gale winds knocked down signs and other loose objects and shattered a few windows but that flooding conditions were no worse than during a bad northeasterly storm.

Only one injury was reported, a woman who suffered facial cuts when a tree branch broke the windshield of her car.

Public transportation was ruled out in Norfolk and nearby Portsmouth because of some flooding and debris in the streets. Power breakdowns affected several thousand homes.

Buddy P. Dunham, 19, Kingston, was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury today on charges of entering and burglarizing the Whitesed Hardware Stoe in Williamsport Thursday night.

Also being held here in connection with the entry is a 17-year-old juvenile from the Kingston area. He is slated to face charges in juvenile court.

Dunham appeared in Circleville Municipal Court today where bond was set at $500 on the entry charge and $500 on a grand larceny accusation. He pleaded guilty to both counts.

Logan Elm School Opens

Approximately 270 Students Enrolled

The New Logan Elm School opened today for the first full day of classes. Carl Burger, executive head of the school district, reported an enrollment of 270 students.

The new building, housing students from Pickaway, Saltcreek and Washington Twps., opened seven class days later than the other county schools due to incompletion of the building.

Burger said the school would have been ready for occupancy weeks before school was scheduled to open, but unfortunately the steel strike during the summer held up construction.

He said the few days delay has not greatly affected the required school days. Students will makeup the loss of classes by meeting on Washington's Birthday, February 22, (a scheduled holiday) and an extra day in the Spring, according to the school head.

The Logan Elm School, located on the Circleville - Tarlton Road, has an entirely new student body, new staff, new buildings and equipment. It is a spacious and well - equipped building.

MOST observers feel the citizens of the Logan Elm School District, the members of the Pickaway County Board of Education, and the administrative staff are to be congratulated for their fine willingness to adequately provide for the educational future of their young people and future leaders of the community.

Little Change in '61 Wheat Program Says ASC Chairman

With winter wheat planting getting under way, Chairman Marvin G. Steely of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee pointed out today that the wheat program for 1961 will be esentially the same as it has been in recent years.

As highlights of the program, Steely listed the following:

Marketing quotas — As a result of an 87.4 affirmative vote of wheat growers who vote in a referendum July 21, marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1961 crop and the marketing of excess wheat will be subject to a penalty.

Price support — Price support will be available on 1961 crop wheat at a minimum national average rate of $1.78 per bushel, the same as the rate for the 1960 crop.

Acreage Allotments — Each wheat - producing farm has an acreage allotment representing the farms share of the national allotment, which again in 1961 stands at 55 million acres, the minimum permitted by law.

Under the marketing quota system, any farmer who keeps within his wheat acreage allotment (or does not exceed 15 acres of wheat) may market his total wheat crop without penalty. Also exempt from penalty is any farmer who obtains approval to participate in the feed program and produces 30 acres or less of wheat for use on his farm.

* * *

OTHER GROWERS who exceed their allotments will generally be subject to a marketing quota penalty on the normal yield of the ex. cess cares. The penalty rate for 1961 will continue at 45 per cent of parity, which for 1960 worked out to a dollar - and - cents penalty of $1.08 per bushel.

The wheat price support program for 1961 will be carried out through loans on farm - or warehouse - stored grain and through purchase agreements. Support will be available from harvesttime in the summer of 1961 to the end of January 1962. The tentative support level is minimum announced in advance of planting, which may be increased on the basis of later information next year but may not be reduced.

The total U. S. Wheat supply for the 1960-61 marketing year is now estimated at a new record of 2,682 million bushels, according to the latest U. S. Department of Agricultural report on the wheat situation received at the local ASC office.

Shirley Temple Sounds Call For Return to High Morals

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What this country needs, says Shirley Temple, is a return to old-fashioned moral values.

Shirley, now a housewife in Atherton, Calif., says she is appalled by some of the things she sees in movies and TV.

"The last two pictures I have seen were 'Suddenly, Last Summer' and 'Anatomy of a Murder,'" she remarked. "I don't think 'Suddenly Last Summer' should have been seen by anyone under 21, and I am dubious about its value to an adult. I suppose 'Anatomy of a Murder' is all right for those who like murder stories, but I found the dialogue offensive.

"Too many of the other Hollywood films follow the same line. I agree with Samuel Goldwyn, who said that producers have gone overboard on sex in films.

"As he said, there is a lesson to be learned from the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. When people got contented and complacent the moral standards started to fall, and they didn't have the strength to lift themselves up."

There is too much phony psychiatry being foisted on the public, Shirley observed, with a resultant chipping away at moral values.

Being the mother of three and part-time receptionist at a child's psychiatry clinic in Palo Alto, Shirley has a more than average concern in such matters. She has a chance to do something about it, both as a noted figure and as star of her own TV series. The weekly hours will start on NBC next Sunday, and she'll appear in every third one.

"I hope it will be one hour of entertainment which the whole family can see every week," she said. "For that reason, I have control over the scripts and can make suggestions about things that I think would be offensive."

Shirley is a youthful 32.

"But I will have been in the entertainment business for 30 years next year," she smiled. "If someone doesn't give me a testimonial dinner then, it'll be too late. All of the people who worked with me are dying off."

There is a statue of the "Angel Caido" (Fallen Angel) in the main park of Madrid, Spain.

Smog Reaches Everywhere

When someone holds up a warning finger and warns that Colorado air is becoming polluted, residents of areas not noticeably afflicted by smog may take a deep breath and ask what the world is coming to.

An eminent scientist from the Robert A. Taft Sanitary Engineering Center of the U. S. Public Health Service in Cincinnati, has ascertained that mountain air pollution is very apparent. By 1970 Denver auto pollution will triple from the 1957 measurement, says the engineer.

As usual, it is now proposed that the federal government spend money to learn the facts and take action against the mounting peril. However, autos are mostly owned by private individuals, and if their fumes endanger the public health, why not pin the blame on the owners?

Confessions of a Communist

By Hal Boyle

Seventeen years ago a strange thing happened to me. I became a daily newspaper columnist.

For nearly a year before that I had been a simple barefoot war reporter, covering the battles in North Africa and Sicily.

But just before we hit the shelwhining beaches below Salerno in Italy, I was ordered to start turning out a daily feature on the combat soldier's life at the front—to become a Boswell of the GI and, in effect, the poor man's Ernie Pyle.

Looking back now across the years of semipeace, I realize that a war, for all its boredom, fear and danger of death, is a reporter's dream assignment—for two reasons:

1. In the raw, bloody drama of the battlefield, men show themselves as they truly are, and you never run out of things really worth writing about.

2. You have a readymade audience. The people back home are desperately eager for every scrap of information you can give them about their men in faroff actions.

But victory quickly dissipates the national unity forged in war. In peace men go back to pursuing their separate and variable goals; it becomes difficult for a writer to find themes of common interest to all.

I had the same trouble getting back to normal life as millions of GIs did. It took me a year of traveling around the world after 1945 to get my column out of uniform and into civilian mufti.

For some reason many readers are interested in a newspaper columnist's job, perhaps because they believe it to be more glamorous, romantic and exciting than it really is.

In a moment of deep insight, Don Marquis, who wrote a daily column before he repented and became a playwright, described this odd occupation best. He said it was like "digging a daily grave."

This is because the torture of trying to find a fairly fresh idea every 24 hours haunts all columnists eventually.

The greatest reward of columning isn't a penthouse apartment, a chauffeur-driven car, or chummy weekends on the golf course with President Eisenhower because he doesn't usually enjoy any of these things.

The pay-off isn't the pay check but the people. All people are wonderful in some ways. Every human heart has a story worth telling if you take the trouble to find it out. And a columnist's contacts with people are a continual rollcall of surprise, refreshment and pure joy.

Let others mine for gold in the ground. He finds a finer gold in people.

So, on the 17th anniversary of the day I started "digging a daily grave," don't send condolences or a get-well card. I'm having the time of my life, and if the world doesn't suddenly run out of people, I hope to go right on having it.

Holdridge Against Both

By George Sokolsky

Herbert C. Holdridge, Brigadier General, U. S. Army (Retired) is a very busy man. He conducts a mail enterprise entitled "Reveille."

There are those who say that one should disregard such publications, but I disagree. There are others who say that one should not give publicity to all the odds and ends of ideas and personalities and movements that appear and disappear, but I disagree. These splinter movements are very significant particularly when they persist over a long period, develop a following and get themselves financed. In the present campaign there are many of them which are particularly violent against John Kennedy.

But General Holdridge is not opposed to John Kennedy; he is also opposed to Richard Nixon. He conducts a propaganda against both candidates. He says of them:

". . . Rigged political parties, rigged national committees, rigged primaries, rigged conventions, rigged nominations, rigged campaign strategies — the total government of the United States, including the two political party monstrosites, rigged by the International Front of the Wall Street (Big Money) — Vatican (Jesuit) Axis."

Now to some this may sound like mad talk; to others it represents the Conspiracy with a capital C. Be a columnist and every day you will receive mail about the Conspiracy. The big conspirator, according to such folks, now is Governor Nelson Rockefeller who has bought both political parties. Holdridge says:

". . .We do not have two political parties, as we claim, or even one political party as is ascribed to Russia. Our political campaigns become shadow-boxing between rival gangs of puppets carrying out the orders of the 'riggers'. To isolate campaign issues from the poisonous concoctions brewed by these political bed-fellows will be beyond the powers even of the Madison Avenue boys — true sons of the Jesuits — who are experts in scientific falsification and doubletalk.

The 1960 elections are already null and void by reason of criminal fraud and treason against the Constitution, perpetrated by international outlaws operating through internal puppets..."

Now, who are these international outlaws? Well nowadays it is the "Invisible Government." This invisible body is a union of Wall Street and the Vatican. Years ago, it was all run by Bernard M. Baruch but this year, it is Pop John XXIII. Having called Joseph, John and Robert Kennedy all sorts of names, General Holdridge turns on Nixon:

" 'Slippery Dick' " Kennedy's counterpart in the Republican Party, holds a record for criminal, ruthless assassinations of political opponents (Jerry Voorhis and Helen Gahagan Douglass). Raised to power primarily by Big Money as Kennedy was by the Vatican...

"When the dirty fight between these two dirty fighters is over, the election will go to the one preferred by the Invisible Government. 'Owning' both 'boys' in the ring, how can they lose?"

After a long harangue against every person associated with either party as a leader of any kind, Holdridge reaches this amazing conclusion:

"If it were not for the hatreds distilled by the Vatican against the 'commies', in support of Big Money, the world would be at peace!"

What General Holdridge advocates is a national plebiscite without regard to political parties. His alternative:

"The ultimate alternative is civil war—opening the roat to economic religious and racial hatreds under our competitive economy and inspired by Wall Street and the Vatican. The result — a holocaust of blood - letting! An era of corruption, of exploitation, of expropria ion, of exploitation, of expropriainternational hatreds will blow itself up in an H-bomb war and civil war. God help the man holding the office of President, whoever he may be, when that calastrophe strikes..."

A mailing to thousands of persons in this election year of this sort of propaganda is expensive. According to a Financial Report, General Holdridge Minute Men operates on a small budget of this, the Report says:

"Yet with a pitiably small budget we have accomplished miracles, proving again that Truth (the Pen) is mightier than the sword: Our materials have reached hundreds of thousands of individuals in the United States. They have been translated and printed in foreign countries, major offices of Government, Federal, State and political headquarters: the large newspapers, Church organizations: labor, veteran & economic organizations, the United Nations, foreign embassies, major centers of public decision have been circularized. . ."

This is one example of a continuous mail that pours into this office from many sources, indicating not only an unrest but a financially supported unrest.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American visits of Premier Nikita Khrushchev are taking on the air of a man looking over some valuable property he hopes to acquire.

When he first came here a year ago, he brought his own personal family along. This time he's bringing his Communist relatives, the top leaders of the Iron Curtain countries.

The mere thought of his presence seems to have a depressing effect. The last time he came, the stock market went down. At the news of his second coming, it dipped again.

The last time the American government couldn't have been more cordial if it had been a real estate agent. It didn't put up a "for sale" sign but it did hold open house so he could wander around.

This time the State Department is making it clear the United States is a restricted neighborhood where the residents have signed a covenant against letting Communists in.

Over the weekend the department said Khrushchev won't be permitted any American traveling at all. In fact, he'll be so limited he can't leave Manhatian Island, even to visit the Soviet lodge on Long Island.

It was done sweetly enough. The department said in effect it was making all America off-limits to him for his own safety.

Khrushchev shouldn't have any trouble interpreting this as a piece of diplomatic tit-for-tat for the way he wrecked the summit meeting, insulted President Eisenhower, called off his Russian trip, and exploited the U2 spy plane episode.

From a diplomatic view the State Department's timing was practically exquisite.

If it had announced such stern restrictions on Khurshchev before he embarked for this country, he might have exploded before a hastily summoned mass audience in Moscow and called off his trip.

Instead, it waited until Khrushchev and his Communist companions were all boxed-in and out at sea in the ship that is bringing them here Sept. 19, one day before the United Nations General Assembly opens.

He can't grab a microphone in the middle of the Baltic or the Atlantic. If he has a temper-tantrum no one except his shipmates will have to put up with it. If he wants to turn around and go home, it probably won't bother the department.

Our diplomats could say: But you made President Eisenhower go home, after traveling all the way to Paris for nothing, when you called off the summit meeting. So why feel so bad about it?

More likely the department's action will probably just raise the temperature in Khrushchev's build-in furnace.

He has been expected to attack the United States within its own borders on the U.N. forum in New York anyway. So anything he adds to it out of pique will be just for extra.

You're Telling Me!

Nixon says "the Communist record for mistaken prohecies stands at about 100 per cent." Nevertheless, a lot of people are suffering from 100 per cent prophet loss.

Republicans are wondering if Virginia's Democratic Senator Byrd will come out for the Kennedy forces. They already surmise Kennedy is for the Byrds.

One argument is that Kennedy hasn't had enough experience to be President. None at all, for instance, at being vice president.

Since the U-2 case and the summit collapse, U. S. trade with the Communist bloc has risen. Apparently the Communist bloc heads are willing to take the goods with the bad.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

She's Brilliantly Deficient!

DEAR ABBY: My brother is married to a woman who has graduated from college and people call her "brilliant". She can talk intelligently about world affairs and she reads every best seller that comes along. But believe me when I say no one in the family will accept a second invitation to her home because she is such a careless housekeeper.

We ate there once and the silverware was encrusted with dirt and the glasses and dishes were filthy. She puts raw fruit and vegetables on the table without washing them. I once saw bugs crawling around on my salad. We have nothing against her, but we can't eat there. We've run out of excuses. Is it possible to come right out with the truth in a case like this and keep her friendship?

SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SIS: If you tell her the truth, you may lose her friendship. It's time someone took a bug out of the salad and put it in your brother's ear.

DEAR ABBY: I know a girl isn't supposed to let a fellow kiss her on the first date, but when is it proper to let all the stops out?

JANE

DEAR JANE: After the organ plays "The Wedding March".

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office with another girl. We usually go out for lunch together. She makes as much as I do, but I always end up paying the bill. She uses the old excuse, "I left my money in my other purse". How can I put a stop to this without appearing cheap?

STUCK

DEAR STUCK: If you hold still for that line more than twice you must have left your brains in your other head. When her money's in her "other purse", tell her you'll "lend" her lunch money. And if that doesn't do it—find a new lunch mate.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is in the service. He is stationed near enough to home so that he gets home once in a while. When he is away he writes the dreamiest love letters saying he is counting the minutes until he sees me. But when he gets home he spends all his time running around with his buddies and I hardly ever see him. When he gets back on the base the love letters start coming again. I like this boy a lot, Abby, and want to know how to handle him.

CLIFF'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Write "Boswell" and tell him you don't want a pen-pal, you want a real live boyfriend.

Child Culture League Welcomes Members

Program books for the year were distributed by Mrs. Emmett Evans and the books were discussed.

Reports were given by the committees and a letter was read from the state president.

The hostesses conducted games and served refreshments to the members.

A Town Can "Die On The Vine" Too!

By law, our bank is limited to paying 3% interest. What happens, then, when folks invest their money out of town because of a higher rate of return?

We no longer have these dollars available in the form of loans to help a man buy a car, improve his home . . . . help a merchant carry better merchandise, finance farm machinery or for a hundred other uses. Business slows down, young people leave for greener pastures. A town withers, then dies. It's happening today in many communities.

Loyalty to your community pays big dividends, helps make our town a better place in which to live and do business. Save your money at home.

Michigan State's first NCAA track champion was Fred Alderman. He won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes in 1927.

Only seven southpaws pitched complete games in 48 efforts against the 1959 pennant winning Chicago White Sox.

Yankee Olympic Cagers Are Hailed

ROME (AP) — "The most explosive team I have ever seen. It was a grand way to bow out."

Coach Pete Newell summed up for his mighty collection of American all-stars who trounced Brazil 90-63 Saturday night to complete an eight-game sweep of the Olympic basketball championships.

The United States has won five titles with a perfect record ever since the American-originated sport was put on the Olympic program in 1936.

Newell now athletic director at the University of California compiled an outstanding record as head coach in the past 14 years with San Francisco, Michigan State and California.

Explosive was the word to describe his terrific twelvesome in Saturday night's finale.

With Jerry Lucas the agile 6-8 all-America from Ohio State leading the way with one tap-in after another the Yanks rolled up a 16-2 advantage in the first five minutes and that was it.

"The greatest team I have ever seen" said Brazilian star Walmir Marques. He also played for Brazil in the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne.

Lucas scored 25 on 12 field goals and one free throw.

He received an ovation from the capacity crowd of 15,000 in the gleaming circular Palazzo Dello Sport.

Oscar Robertson the three-time all-America from Cincinnati and the country's leading college scorer for three years was next high for the United States with 12 points. He was outstanding however in setting up plays and in assisting Lucas on the boards.

In five of their eight games the Yanks went over the 100-point mark. They could have done it again Saturday night anytime they wanted. But the points no longer counted as they did when there was a possibility of a tie in the standings and the point spread would have been the deciding factor.

The team totalled 815 points and held the opposition to 476.

This breaks down to 102 points a game to 60 points against.

Olympic Athletes Head Home Await 1964 Tests in Tokyo

ROME (AP)—Olympic athletes streamed out of Rome today leaving the world's sports fans wondering just how fabulous the records will be when they reassemble in Tokyo for the 1964 games.

Track and field stars smashed five world records and tied another four. Twenty nine Olympic records went into the books.

How much better can the records get? How much faster can the boys and girls run?

Livio Berutti, Italian winner of the 200 meters sprint, thinks it's impossible to put a peak on athletic endeavors.

"It's a question of the development of the whole human race," the Italian sprinter said. "Men get bigger, fitter and medical research helps to improve the times and distances that men jump. "Who can say where it will end?"

Larry Snyder, chief coach of the American track and field team, saw it this way:

"People are in better health, they get better food. They grow bigger and bigger. The world's track coaches and officials help each other to develop new ideas and techniques.

"It would be a brave man who would say it's going to end at a certain point. We just don't know how much further we're going to go."

All this talk left the experts wondering if world times like Herb Elliott's 3:35.6 for the 1,500 meters will still be on the books when Tokyo comes round.

Elliott himself is doubtful. He thinks that in time a 3:50 mile is possible. And a 3:50.0 mile would drop the 1,500 meters record several digits lower.

About 8,000 athletes from 87 countries came to Rome for the games Aug. 25. Some started trickling out of the Eternal City even before Sunday's closing ceremony.

A few minutes earlier the German horse riding team of Hans Winkler, Alwin Schockemohle and Fritz Thiedemann had successfully defended the team title won by Germany in 1956.

The scarlet-coated Germans won the gold medal with a team score of 47½ penalty points.

The American squad of George Morris, New Caanan, Conn., Frank Chapot, Wallpack, N.J., and Bill Stenkraus of Westport, Conn., came second with a score of 66 penalty points. Italy finished third with 80½ points.

That was the last event on the Olympic program that ended with the Soviet Union the dominant sports nation of the world.

The Soviets won 43 gold medals, 28 silver and 31 bronze for an unofficial points score of 807½, based on 10 for first place, 5 for second, 4 for third, etc.

The United States took 34 gold medals, 21 silver and 16 bronze for a second place points score of 564½.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

The part of the Miss America pageant that had viewers in my living room on the edge of their chairs Saturday night was a new quiz, done with all the dear departed flourishes of "The $64,000 Question" and "Twenty-One."

There was one mad moment when I wondered when good old Ben Feit and his bank guards were going to deliver up the sealed envelope containing the vital question: "What would you do if, at a dance, you caught your boy friend kissing your best girl friend?"

However, the spontaneous answer I thought most rewarding in the course of this extra test of American womanhood was the one that came to a demand to describe the ideal wife.

"To be an ideal wife," said the blonde young woman thoughtfully "means also to be an ideal mother —if you're fortunate enough to have children."

When I turned off my set at midnight, I felt as if I had been through a long ordeal. The TV-minded contest producers have turned the finals of the annual affair into a two-hour amateur night which was not only terribly long and dull but pretentious and corny.

Miss Michigan, who won, is a pretty girl with two highly distinctive things about her: she does not sing opera and she is a brunette.

Bert Parks handled matters in his breezy, hyperthyroid style and Douglas Edwards commented the events with the gravity he usually reserves for Security Council meetings and Hurricane Donna. Undoubtedly it will get the biggest rating of the fall season. It was still a pretty shabby TV show.

ATHENS, O. — Ohio University has played 87 different opponents since football began here in 1894. Two new ones to be met in 1960, Boston University and Southern Illinois, bring the total to 89. The Bobcats hold the edge in 49 of the series, are behind in 28, and even in 10.

Indians Help Yanks toward Another Flag

8th, 9th in Row Chalked Up over Unwilling Tribe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lo the poor Indians. If the New York Yankees win the American League pennant they can thank the Cleveland Tribe for their unwilling cooperation.

By sweeping a Sunday doubleheader from Cleveland 5-0 and 3-2 in 11 innings the front-running Yanks made it nine in a row over the Indians 16 out of 22 for the year and 11 of their last 12 meetings. No other club in the league including the Kansas City A's has been such a patsy.

The Yanks lengthened their lead to one full game over Baltimore despite the Orioles' 4-0 conquest of Kansas City with the help of 40-year-old Dave Philley. The veteran acquired from San Francisco about 10 days ago collected three hits including a homer and drove in three runs.

Chicago stuck in there winning a pair from Boston 5-3 and 1-0 with coach Tony Cuccinello doing the managing instead of ailing Al Lopez who was suffering from a virus infection. Billy Pierce needed help to hold the opener safe but Early Wynn went all the way with a six-hit shutout in the second game.

Harmon Killebrew hit three home runs for Washington but Detroit grabbed both ends from the Senators 8-3 and 8-5. Killebrew had one homer and a single and double in the first game and drove in all of Washington's runs in the second game.

Pittsburgh was rained out of a doubleheader with Chicago but kept most of its National League lead intact. St. Louis crept up a half game by beating Philadelphia 7-3 but still trailed by 6½ games. Los Angeles blanked Milwaukee 2-0 dropping the Braves 7½ behind the Pirates. Cincinnati edged San Francisco in the first 2-1 but the Giants took the second 3-2.

Ralph Terry pitched the first game for the Yanks at Cleveland turning in a neat five hitter while Hector Lopez and Roger Maris slammed home runs off Jim Perry.

Mickey Mantle's 34th home run won the second game in the 11th after each club scored once in the 10th.

Fine relief pitching by Mike Garcia and Frank Baumann helped Pierce in the opener jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings.

Frank Lary struggled out of a pitching slump and ended a six-game Detroit losing streak in the opener with Washington. Dick Gernert newly acquired first baseman drove in two runs that brought the Tigers from behind. Al ekaline hit a grand slam home in the second game.

Young O'Toole Shines Again For Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jim O'Toole has again shown Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds he can win when the chips are down.

The chips were nearly always down in the opener of the doubleheader Sunday against San Francisco but O'Toole skillfully and shrewdly nailed down a 2-1 victory.

The Giants picked up the nightcap triumph 3-2.

Hutch knew his 23 - year - old southpaw had talent but needed to develop it. O'Toole was assured of plenty of work this season. And Hutch known as a capable trainer of pitching talent has developed his young southpaw to potential star status.

O'Toole now has a respectable 11-11 mark despite some tough luck with the sixth place Reds.

The Giants pecked away at O'Toole for eight hits and threatoened in every inning but the second and ninth. But he limited them to a single run in the fifth on singles by Ed Bressoud and Juan Marichal plus a forceout.

His teammates had little luck with Marichal the Giants' bright rookie prospect collecting only five hits.

In the first inning singles by Vada Pinson and Gus Bell set up a run on Jerry Lynch's force play grounder.

Bell homered in the third and that was all the Reds needed.

In the nightcap the Reds threatened in every inning but the sixth and ninth and banged nine hits but could do little with Stu Miller's pitching. The Rhinelanders' best was a run in the fourth on Ed Bailey's single plus Chico Cardenas triple and Wally Post's solo [illegible] the sixth.

The New York Rangers will open the National Hockey League season on Oct. 5 at Madison Square Garden, tht first time they have opened at home since their debut in 1926.

Tiger Practice Will Center On Home Opener with Athens

Football activity at Circleville High School this week will center on Friday's home opener with Athens.

The CHS Tigers, with Friday's 46-20 victory over Paint Valley safely tucked away, will be looking for win No. 2.

Athens will bring a formidable team composed of eight lettermen. According to reports, the Bulldogs have size and speed. It will be the first game of the season for the Ohio University home spot.

Circleville reached its best peak Friday night in the second half when the Red and Black unit exploded for five touchdowns in surmounting a 20-14 Paint Valley lead.

* * *

COACH Carl Benhase said with firm conviction the Tigers "need plenty of work" prior to the Athens opener. He cited inexperience as the most serious problem to overcome.

Chuck McDowell appeared to be the only Tiger injury. Saturday he was limping on a swollen right foot. The injury could be costly in that the powering back zoomed for three touchdowns and added plenty of yardage Friday night.

The playing status of Garold Dade and Clesson Thomas also is unknown at present. Both missed the Paint Valley opener due to injuries. Dade has been sidelined since the Groveport scrimmage with a head injury and Thomas was in the hospital last week with an infected leg bruise.

Old Casey Reveals His Win Secret

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grizzled Casey Stengel manager of the New York Yankees reveals the secret of winning games in a hot pennant race:

"You have to have the big money men to come up and do it."

Mickey Mantle had just wallopped his 34th home run breaking a 2-2 tie in the 11th inning and capping a doubleheader sweep over Cleveland. It boosted the Yanks' American League lead to a full game over Baltimore.

Ralph Terry blanked the Indians 5-0 in the opener doling out five hits. He got home run support from Roger Maris (No. 38) and Hector Lopez (No. 8). Lopez whacked a triple preceding Maris' blast. Maris also had a double and a single and hiked his runs batted in total to 101 tops in the league along with his home runs.

Someone asked Stengel how he sizes up the flag chase among New York Baltimore and Chicago.

"All three of us are gonna get a chance at it every day" Casey replied. He wrinkled his face into his famous grin and followed with the impish wink.

"Don't you know what it takes to win a pennant? Win more than the next man. All three of us are losing the same."

Unable to pin Casey down the questioning turned to another wise head Yogi Berra.

"Our pitching has gotta hold up" said Berra. "We pray every day our pitching will do the job."

"This weekend should tell the story" said coach Jim Hegan referring to the four-game series with Baltimore in Yankee Stadium.

Willoweit took $500 first prize money and Zimmerman won merchandise.

Tied for second, each with 35-33—68, were pro Alex Polli and Jack Chabot both of Columbus, and pro Gordon Waldespuhl of Dayton and Fritz Schmidt of Columbus.

Six pro-amateur teams tied for third with 69s. They were (pro listed first): Harold Mizer and Bob Brock Zanesville; Harry Doerge and Frank Riznak, Cambridge; Rick Jones of Youngstown and Frank Guarasci of Columbus; Larry Snyder and Bobby Littler, Athens; Russ Milne and Dale Buettner, Toledo; and Emmett Greenwell and Fred Ruscher Middletown.

Ohio Hunting-Fishing Permit Sales Taper in Recent Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sales of hunting and fishing licenses in Ohio have been leveling off despite the population increase, officials of the Department of Natral Resources say.

A possible explanation is offered in this month's edition of "Ohio Conservation Bulletin" the department's magazine. It's in an article written by Robert W. Copelan, department public relations chief, after an interview with Daniel R. Atzenhoefer, biologist and supervisor of the southwest Ohio area for the department's Division of Wildlife.

Atzenhofer points to the trend toward living in or next to the city.

"With urban living," he's quoted as saying "and its attending restrictions, young people have been and are being denied the opportunities to exercise their hunting and fishing flair at a tim when habits and hobbies become firmly established. In rural-dwelling days a youth could walk to his favorite fishing spot."

But there are compensations for being denied easy access to fish-in the close confines of the city, he says. Comparatively new outdoor activities like water skiing and skin diving have appeared. And, Atzenhoefer adds:

The young people of yesteryear a hand in the leveling off, he thinks, are:

Pay fishing ponds (where no state licenses are required), fluctuation in fish and game supply (although there is a greater abunsance of some species today than in the past) cost of equipment, difficulty experienced in finding a place to hunt and hunting accidents.

Complete 1959 data are not available, but 689,008 hunting licenses were sold in 1958, compared with 692,747 in 1957, and 854,519 fishing licenses, compared with 870,151 the year before. Although these represent drops, the over-all trend for several years is more of leveling than a drop.

Bootin' Ben Wins for L.A.

One-Toed Agajanian Is Star of AL Play

By The Associated Press

Bootin' Ben Agajanian 40 a journeyman pro who kicks 'em through the uprights with only one toe has reactivated his career as one of the veteran retreads playing prominent roles in the new American Football League.

The former New Mexico standout who has the brine-toughened stump of his right foot encased in a special shoe for his kicking chores booted the Los Angeles Chargers to a 21-20 victory over the Dallas Texans in the key clash on the AFL's inaugural weekend program.

It was Agajanian's third conversion with 2:15 remaining that gave the Chargers Western Division pre-season favorites a successful opening.

In other AFL regular season debuts the Houston Oilers beat the Oakland Raiders 37-22 and the New York Titans rapped Buffalo's Bills 27-3.

In the National League—where the regular season opens Sept. 23—Bobby Mitchell barrelled 11 and 64 yards for touchdowns in Cleveland's 16-10 exhibition triumph over the Chicago Bears. Nick Pietrosante dove over from the 1-yard line in the fourth quarter Green Bay edged the Dallas Cowboys 28-23 on a last quarter 12-yard pass from Bart Starr to Paul Hornung.

The struggle between the Chargers and Texans revolved around a missed extra point, by Dallas' Jack Spikes. The Chargers trailing 20-7 in the fourth quarter tied it on a 7-yard touchdown run by quarterback Jack Kemp and his 4-yard TD toss to Howie Ferguson. Agajanian then booted the clincher.

George Blanda 32-year-old NFL veteran passed for four touchdowns—including the go-ahead 3-yarder to Johnny Carson in the third period—kicked four conversions and a field goal for Houston.

Buffalo took a 3-0 lead over New York in the opening period on Darrell Harper's field goal but that was it for the Bills. The first of Bill Shockley's two field goals and touchdown runs of 2 and 15 yards by quarterback Al Dorow put the Titans out of reach.

Paul Brown Gives Team High Praise

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown was satisfied with the Cleveland Browns' performance Saturday night in Akron when they beat the Chicago Bears 16-10 despite a poor passing attack.

It was the team's fourth victory in five National Football League exhibitions. With the Detroit Lions te final pre-season opponent Saturday night at Cleveland Stadium the Browns are assured their first winning exhibition record since 1953.

Bobby Mitchell running brilliantly throughout the practice schedule put on another dazzling exhibition in the Rubber Bowl scoring on runs of 11 and 64 yards.

The latter run contained an element of surprise — coming on a third down and 18 situation when the Bears were looking for a pass.

Milt Plum and Len Dawson both saw action at quarterback, but they netted only 45 yards on passes.

"We were playing against what I call a gambling defense," explained Brown. "They (the Bears) either were putting on an all-out blitz or dropping almost everybody back.

"It can make a team look bad for a while but you'r evulnerable to the big play—like Mitchell's run."

Sam Baker booted a 28-yard field goal and one extra point He had another conversion try blocked, along with a field goal attempt. A third Cleveland field goal try was blocked, too.

Ohio Congressman Loses Bid To End U.S. Library Subsidy

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is axiomatic around Washington that a federal spending program—once started—can't be stopped.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, vowed not long ago to do his best to disprove this, just once. He was going to try to end a program providing money for libraries, particularly in rural areas.

The program was strongly backed by, among others, Ohio's chief librarian Walter Brahm. He told Bow the small libraries of the state had to have the money if rural residents were going to get any kind of library service.

But Bow even though librarian Braham is from his district, said he still thought the program was a federal handout that wasn't needed. He said the sponsors promised it would be temporary, then backed down to this commitment.

Bow contended that Ohio collects enough money for libraries through a tax that amounts to $21,261,612 a year. He said he couldn't see how the federal contribution of $270,635 would help that much.

"This is a matter of states' responsibility," said Bow, "and the state of Ohio can well take care of itself and should, with figures of that kind."

Bow lost his fight. Congress, in its August session, extended the library service program for five more years.

The Eisehnower administration favored the extension.

And Vice President Richard M. Nixon Republican presidential nominee, said he was "heartily in support of the basic purpose of the (library) act.

"I understand that much has been accomplished since the act became effective in 1956. However I also undrstand that the full attainment of the objective which congress sought by this legislation would only be achieved if the act were extended."

An Ohio Democrat, Rep. Walter H. Moeller, agreed. He said the big cities of Ohio are grabbing most of the state's library money and the only help for the small town library is from the federal government.

Bow acknowledges the problem exists. But he says this is something for Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to handle—not the White House.
